Miro and Sert in Their Own Words: Correspondence 1937-1980 (Ad Hoc)

Patricia Juncosa, Magdalena Aguilo Victory

The correspondence between Joan Miro and Josep Lluís Sert - comprehensively compiled for the first time in this publication - offers an essential document for understanding the convergence between these two individuals despite the physical distance that separated them for most of their lifetimes. The correspondence is supplemented with personal statements from Miro and Sert in the form of writings, photographs, sketches, architectural plans, and press clippings. This material has been consulted in the archives of the Josep Lluís Sert Collection at Harvard University, the Fundació Pilar i Joan Miró in Mallorca, the Fundació Joan Miró in Barcelona, and the Successió Miró in Palma de Mallorca. The letters sent from different places and relating in one way or another to their lives and their work become the narrative thread for reconstructing their shared vision, an unfulfilled project that was always in the back of their minds, which in turn shaped their artistic and architectural production. The book includes two annexes with the correspondence between Joan Miró and Josep Lluís Sert along with a few others and include other written material by Josep Sert.
